

MONDAY MEMO

School of Theology and Ministry

To inspire inform initiate into ministry

Volume 8, Issue 11
November 29, 2010

A note from our Associate Dean Dr. Steve Lennox

... you also, like living stones, are being built into a spiritual house to be a holy priesthood, offering spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God through Jesus Christ. - 1 Peter 2:5

Welcome back. The weeks between Thanksgiving and Christmas are typically the most stressful of the semester. Let me make a few suggestions:

1. Act on purpose. Think about what you're choosing to do with your time and measure it against your priorities.
2. Be nice to other people. Your stress is not an excuse to be rude but an opportunity to develop a Christ-like character.
3. See the pressure as God's gift to increase your faith.
4. Live by grace, giving it abundantly to others and yourself.

Let the fun begin.

The Rev. Stephen J. Lennox, Ph.D.
Professor of Bible
Interim Associate Dean, School of Theology and Ministry

Wildcat Works (sponsored by Center for Life Calling and Leadership) provides career services to alumni, students, and community members. Students should go to www.mywildcatworks.com. This is a comprehensive site for all job search needs. It lets students create and post resumes and allows employers to register for various career events, among other things. Employers may visit www.wildcatworksonline.com to register. Employers can see resumes and post internship and job opportunities.

CLEP

New Policy for College Composition

Please be aware that Indiana Wesleyan University College of Arts & Sciences will no longer be offering the College Composition CLEP Examination. Earlier in the year, CLEP revised the composition examination and divided it into two different options. A review of the new exams by the IWU English Department faculty indicated that this examination does not enable students to meet learning outcomes as required in our composition and/or advanced writing courses. The General Education Committee and the Academic Affairs Council reviewed and approved the recommendation that this examination no longer be accepted to meet the Writing Competency or the Advanced Writing or Literature course requirements. Do you have a heart for working with youth? Are you ready for an opportunity to step outside your comfort zone in a cross-cultural context?

IWU World Impact Germany // July 6th – 24th 2011

Who should go on this trip?

College students that have a heart for working with youth and are ready to step outside their comfort zone by serving in a cross-cultural context.

What will we be doing there?

We will be serving at an English Camp for German teenagers. We need people to serve in specific roles during the duration of the camp – 1 Bible speaker (a manual is available with guidelines and helps to prepare 8 or 9 20 min. Lessons which are translated), 1 activities coordinator (a manual and guidelines are given to help prepare team activities for 2 hours for 9 days), 3-4 male camp counselors and 3-4 female camp counselors/small group leaders, 3-4 ESL teachers (material, guidelines and coaching will help with preparation), worship leaders (in addition to serving in another role), and 3-4 kitchen staff (a manual and menus will help with preparation). Regardless of your role, each member of the team will have the opportunity to show the love of Jesus in a real and practical way. By helping improve their English skills and building relationships through conversation, you will be able to share with them your walk with Jesus and make a positive impact in their lives.

Why do missions work in Germany?

“The Protestant state church is fairly dead. The percent of committed Christians in Germany is maybe at 3 or 4 percent. Eighty percent belong to a church nominally, Protestant or Catholic. A mere 0.5 percent belong to a free evangelical church.” – from Christianity Today

Where in Germany are we going?

Teach Beyond (our partnering mission) offers camps throughout Germany and Switzerland (and is expanding their camp programs to other places in Europe and across the globe). We will be venturing to the very southwestern corner of the Black Forest, to the small town of Kandern, Germany. Kandern is located about 20 minutes from both France and Switzerland.

Do I need to know how to speak German?

No you do not need to know how to speak German. Some knowledge of German can be really helpful though. Teens come to camp with varying abilities of English language skills (some are almost fluent – some have just started learning).

How much will it cost? Estimated cost is $2100
